Increase Planning Agility Across Your Whole Organization for On-Budget, Profitable Projects

In the fast-paced construction industry, profitability means staying on top of material costs and managing labor availability. Contractors must adapt quickly if they want to survive and thrive. This requires agile, continuous planning and forecasting backed by up-to-the-minute reports and cross-project consolidated analytics that enable you to make the right decisions. Traditional manual, spreadsheet-based planning processes are unable to provide this level of agility and insight, or to scale as your business grows.

Bizview is a complete online platform for all your financial planning, budgeting, and forecasting needs. It gives you control of your financial processes, simplifies planning workflows by automating manual tasks, and offers the insights you need for effective decision making.

Shorten Planning Cycles to Support a Continuous Planning Process

With Bizview, you will shrink planning cycles and improve team productivity by creating a single source of truth for all planning data and promote collaboration across teams and projects. Easily connect your planning with all your existing data sources.

- Give project managers/executives ownership of their own budgets
- Perform reforecasting at any time: weekly, monthly, quarterly

Develop Accurate, Integrated Plans for Better Cost Control

Bizview provides you with a robust platform to streamline planning processes across projects, increase cost control, and enable smarter decisions.

- Formalize consistent planning and budgeting processes across divisions and projects
- Aggregate and consolidate data across projects

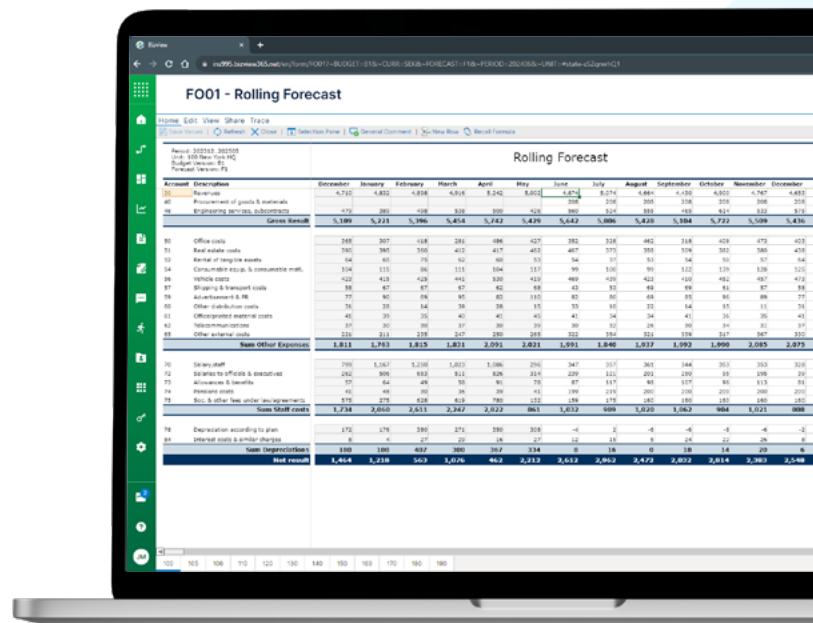

“With Bizview, we have significantly improved our project management. We now have a seamless integration between projects and finance. Bizview is user-friendly, simple and gives a good overview. Multiconsult has made a lot of savings by implementing Bizview.”

– Jan Helge Golmen, Finance Director, Multiconsult

Scale and Adapt to Your Growing Business Needs

With Bizview, you can respond quickly to change with custom planning that reflects your business needs.

- Easily project revenue forecast by project milestone
- Drive down profit/margin fade
- Take the pressure off Revenue recognition though automation:
- Percent complete by project
- WIP Reporting
- Cost versus estimate
- Under/over billings
- Billed to date versus cost to date
